
God's Coming Judgment

Habakkuk 2:1-20

Habakkuk's prophecy is set against a background of the decline and fall of the Judean kingdom. When Habakkuk learned that God would use the evil Chaldeans to judge the wickedness in Judah, he was shocked. How could God use evil to judge evil? God reminded Habakkuk that all evil men would face God's coming judgment.

1. Judgment to him who has what belongs to _____

Habakkuk 2:1-8

- a) Woe to him who _____ what is not his (vs. 6)

Habakkuk's prophecy is set against a background of the decline and fall of the Judean kingdom. When Habakkuk learned that God would use the evil Chaldeans to judge the wickedness in Judah, he was shocked. How could God use evil to judge evil? God reminded Habakkuk that all evil men would face God's coming judgment.

1. Judgment to him who has what belongs to others

Habakkuk 2:1-8

- a) Woe to him who increases what is not his (vs. 6)
 - b) Woe to him who makes himself rich with loans (vs. 6)
 - c) Your creditors will rise up and you will become plunder for them (vs. 7)
- The righteous will live by his faith, not greed.

2. Judgment to him who gets evil gain

Habakkuk 2:9-11

- a) Woe to him who builds his life on sinful behavior (vs. 9)
 - b) Woe to him who destroys others to build his life (vs. 10)
 - c) You're sinning against yourself (vs. 10)
- The righteous will live by his faith, not evil gain.

3. Judgment to him who builds a city with violence

Habakkuk 2:12-17

- a) Woe to him who builds a city with bloodshed (vs. 12)
 - b) Woe to him who violates his neighbor (vs. 15)
- The righteous will live by faith, not violence.

4. Judgment to him who trusts in idols

Habakkuk 2:18-20

- a) Woe to him who trusts in his own handiwork (vs. 18)
- The righteous will live by faith, not idols.

❖ Insight for life:

I will live by my faith and not just talk about it.
